

THE WORLD'S NEWS LEADER

A TIME WARNER COMPANY

News Advisory

For Release: July 20, 2004

Former Defense Secretary Cohen Joins CNN's Wolf Blitzer Reports

The Honorable William Cohen, former secretary of defense under President Clinton, has joined CNN as world affairs analyst for Wolf Blitzer Reports. The senior statesman will appear each Monday to share his analysis and give his unique perspective on critical political and security issues facing the world today.

Cohen served three terms in the U.S. House of Representatives and three years in the U.S. Senate representing Maine. Cohen is now chairman and CEO of The Cohen Group, a business advisory firm in Washington, D.C.

Wolf Blitzer is the anchor of CNN's Wolf Blitzer Reports, which airs weeknights from 5-6 p.m. (ET). The program focuses on the day's top news, live interviews with top newsmakers and live reports from CNN correspondents around the United States and the world. Transcripts will be available following the program at <http://www.CNN.com/Transcripts>.